Pioneering 501(c)(3), With The Aim To Aid Insured Individuals Under Financial Stress Due To Medical Bills, Is Set To Host Two Health & Wellness Expos Free To The Public

The Great Humanity Healthcare Fund (GHHF) was founded because of one statistic: 60% of bankruptcies are not from credit card or mortgage related debt; they are due to healthcare costs. The Expos are to provide the public with health and wellness information and all proceeds will be contributed to GHHF.

Thank you to current exhibitors and sponsors: University of Michigan, Ann Arbor Observer, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, Cypress Counseling Center, GH2 Benefits, and Martinizing of Ann Arbor. There are still exhibitor spots available. Please contact GHHF for more information on becoming an exhibitor.

More About GHHF – Because of costs, 34% of adults aged 19-64 did not visit a doctor or clinic, fill a prescription, skipped a recommended test, treatment, or follow-up, or did not get needed specialist care (source: Commonwealth Fund). One in Five Working-Age Americans with health insurance reported struggling with paying medical bills (source: New Kaiser/NYT Survey). The GHHF was created to help and will directly benefit families and individuals fill the gap between insurance and healthcare bills. The GHHF's service is also intended to benefit local businesses and the overall economy; if people are less concerned about medical costs, they are more likely to eat out, go to the movies, travel, invest in their education, and take necessary medical tests to ensure continued good health.
